A DIGITAL LABEL FOR EVERY TASTE

UPM RAFLATAC

A WORLD OF CHOICE

At UPM Raflatac we know how important it is to supply the widest possible selection of labelstock to meet your every need. With this in mind, we've been working hard to develop a comprehensive range of digital products for use with HP Indigo Technology. We're proud to say we've achieved this goal. Shouldn't you go digital too?

DOING IT WITH DIGITAL

Digital printing technology makes it possible to print smaller label runs from data stored in a digital file. With faster machines capable of printing photo-quality labels, like the HP Indigo series, more and more converters are reaping the benefits. The beverage, food and retail labelling industries in particular have been quick to take advantage of this versatile printing method.

VIVID VINTAGES

The chance to cost-effectively produce small runs of high-quality labels makes digital printing ideal for the wine industry. But it's not only the vineyards that are getting the most out of digital – pharmaceutical companies are making increasing use of this versatile option, too. In fact, just about any business requiring a striking label is sure to lead where others follow.

PAINTING A PROFITABLE PICTURE

Digital printing is perfect for the painting and coatings industry. The speed and cost-effectiveness of the technology means less waste and more savings. As always, we've done our best to offer a portfolio that paints a profitable picture.

A FREE PALLET TO GET YOU STARTED

Our roll-to-roll digital labelstocks have a proprietary topcoat for excellent liquid ink transfer and anchorage and a long shelf life prior to printing. To guarantee optimum colour saturation and crisp resolution we've paid special attention to smoothness, resistivity, surface energy and moisture. Better still, when you decide to go digital and purchase an HP Indigo press, we'll even send you a free pallet of products to get you started. Contact your sales representative or our customer service for details. You'll find our contact information at www.upmraflatac.com under contacts.
